SUPPORT FOR LEARNING AND WELL-BEING
How does the school support pupils with special educational needs?	How the school oversees and plans education programmes for pupils with SEND. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Initially the school will map out the individual child's needs and then identify an appropriate programme of support Who supports pupils with SEND and their roles?

- The Academy uses Thrive as appropriate to work with pupils (both individually or as part of a group) who may require additional support to access learning due to emotional, social or behavioural difficulties. Often, these pupils are those who have SEND.

- The Family Safeguarding Officer monitors attendance data carefully and liaises closely with the Educational Welfare Officer who may support pupils and families who may have difficulties in this area.

- Some of the Academy's SEND pupils are currently under the Early Help Arena and therefore regular multi-agency meetings are held. Relevant professionals and outside agencies are involved, as well as the pupil's guardians/parents. Pastoral, social and medical support can be provided through the Single Assessment process e.g. through agencies such as ASET, FASST, FRS, CAMHS and Family Hub Workers.

How information is communicated to parents.

- If parents are concerned regarding issues related to their child's learning and wellbeing then they can speak to the class teacher in the first instance and if necessary, contact the SENCo or Head of Academy, depending on need.

Involvement and responsibilities of Academy Advisory Board (AAB)

- AAB Members are informed on a termly basis when they consider reports on the Academy SEND Policy and Action Plan.

How does the school help parents to support their child's learning?

How the school explains to parents how their child's learning is planned depends very much on the child's individual needs.

- Generically, twice yearly meetings are held with all parents.
- On an individual basis more bespoke meetings are held with parents, if and when required.
- To help parents to support their child's learning outside of school, specific advice is provided as necessary.
